BFA's 3rd Annual Public Affairs Symposium: " 'Do the Right Thing:' Discovering and Defending Truth"

Baltimore Freedom Academy
1601 E. Lombard Street, 21231 (in the auditorium)
5:30pm

Guests are invited to attend 2 of 3, 45-minute workshop offerings led by individuals who work closely with the following themes:

1. My Personal is Political: What is truth to me? What does injustice look like? (Daily Choices & Lifestyle Advocacy)
2. My Personal Impacts Others: How do my choices affect others? (Bullying, Domestic Violence & Identity Issues)
3. My Personal & My Community: Is my pursuit of truth defended? Can it really impact my community? (Advocacy & Conflict between groups)

The Circle of Restorative Justice presents the documentary, Concrete, Steel and Paint

The film, featuring Philadelphia's internationally recognized Mural Arts Program, raises important questions about crime, justice and reconciliation—and dramatically illustrates how art can facilitate dialogue about difficult issues.
